Sometimes, a different voice is all it takes to motivate your past due customer to pay. NACM will make demand for payment in full, from your customer, within a 10-day timeframe. If not paid, the account will be placed with an NACM collector whose sole focus is getting you paid. This allows your team to spend time focusing on more collectible business.

Immediate Action

It's been proven time and time again: the older the debt, the more difficult it will be to collect. A trained NACM collector will work your account immediately. Our collectors are professional and consistent, they are experienced in how to effectively pursue assets, and are versed in the legal aspects of collections.
